Read the text below. For questions 16-20, write the letter (A, B, C or D) of the correct answer in boxes 16-20 on your answer sheet.

Yesterday Emily went to the store to buy some fruit. She wanted to get some cherries, a watermelon and maybe some kiwis, which she loves to eat when she's thirsty, especially after exercising. She went to the supermarket first, but there were a lot of people waiting in line. She decided to go inside anyway to look at the prices. The watermelon was cheap, but the cherries were incredibly expensive, and she didn't want to buy just one thing, so she went to the local market. There, she saw her good friend Janet, who wanted to buy some meat for a barbecue. The two talked about their families for about ten minutes and then Janet said she was in a hurry, so they said goodbye to each other. Emily found everything she was looking for, and even though it was a bit expensive, she didn't want to go back home empty handed, so she bought an enormous watermelon, a kilo of kiwis and a basket of cherries. She thought about taking a taxi back to her house because of all the heavy bags she was carrying, but then she decided to walk. I need the exercise, she thought.
